

LAB WEEK 2021

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

ACROSS

- 2. Disease indicated by presence of Auer rods
- 4. RBCs without central pallor
- 6. An acute phase reactant that is a non-specific marker of inflammation
- 8. Flow cytometry uses light _____ to identify cells
- 11. A person with this blood type can receive any type of blood
- 13. High levels of this may cause jaundice
- 14. This shows the average level of glucose in the blood stream for the previous 3 months
- 16. Antibodies that target the nuclei of your own cells
- 18. VDRL testing detects this

DOWN

- 1. The molecule that carries genetic information for all living things
- 3. RBCs that are smaller than normal
- 5. Antiglobulin test in blood bank, may be direct or indirect
- 7. A common, gram positive cocci that forms clusters
- 9. Coagulation Factor I
- 10. A common reflex test when urinalysis reveals WBCs and bacteria
- 12. CSF is collected by _____ puncture
- 15. Phagocytic WBCs that produce bacteriocidal lysosomes
- 17. A _____ panel typically includes total cholesterol, HDL, LDL and triglycerides
- 19. Test commonly used to monitor heparin therapy